

Ted Gilman Bio

Ted Gilman has served as an Environmental Education Specialist and Naturalist at the Audubon Center in Greenwich since 1977. A lifelong birder, he received his bachelor's degree in biology from Earlham College, in Richmond, Indiana and did graduate work in Science and Environmental Education at Cornell University. He has served as an ornithology instructor at the Audubon Camp in Maine, and on Audubon trips to Trinidad & Tobago and Kenya. Ted has also pursued bird study in France, China, Costa Rica, Honduras and El Salvador. He enjoys sharing his love of the world of birds with people of all ages.
